

ERSA 2010, Call For Papers

Special session: Social Capital in Housing Management

Social capital is an important concept in housing management, whether housing areas lack it or have an abundance of it. Social capital is a complex concept and could be defined along several lines. In this theme social capital is defined in a broad sense, taking into account aspects as;

- Norms, sanctions and incentives
- Collective action and cooperation
- Trust and solidarity
- Networks and social inclusion
- Information and communication
- Social cohesion and integration
- Democracy and political action

Papers on the meaning of social capital in connection housing management are invited.
