

CALL FOR PAPERS

Special Session: “Urban Planning & Design Paradigms” Session at ERSA 2010 Congress

Throughout the last three decades a number of theories, approaches, force fields, models, ideologies - paradigms have emerged and influenced the practice of urban planning and design. The workshop wants to examine and extract interesting papers & ideas on theory and practice excogitating on current paradigms and their differences. Papers should examine how this is reflected on the current urban form and the built environment of our cities. A selection of best papers might be organized in a special issue of Urban Design International or Journal of Urbanism. The deadline for the abstracts is 1st of January, 2010. The deadline for final submission of papers (those that are selected) will be 1st of June, 2010.
